

Manifesto For Mankind

Each unique human born on the earth is equally birthed as all other humans are. All, without exception, are aspects of the one grand body called mankind. Regardless of physical place of birth, sex, or any other distinguishing characteristic, each by this undeniable truth are justified in deserving equal share in all the abundance the earth freely gives. Equally, each deserves the right to live in harmony with all others born upon the earth. Each unique self is born with the same life force and conscious awareness.

Within the body of mankind each unique cell of this body equally are an aspect of the whole and the whole an aspect of each unique cell. By this truth, it is declared all are to equally share in both the bounty of the earth and the sustaining and nurturing of all aspects of land, water, sky, and flora and fauna upon it.

None are to have greater or lesser portion than any other. No person, government, power, or authority is to enslave, tax, or otherwise prohibit each unique human from freely receiving what the earth has given them as their birthright upon their birth. This includes enough free land to have a home and if so chosen, land enough to grow food and accommodate the requirements for food, shelter, clothing, and reasonable living space.

The world of man has created systems, governments, corporations, and authorities that are far removed from the rights and freedoms owed to each individual. Malice and beliefs in separation of our oneness have formed untold misery and countless devices that have ensnared mankind. To rectify these vast and deeply entrenched constructs it is imperative each individual recognizes the heart based ideals that equality and unity requires of each unique human being.

All mankind is one blood. Love is the binding force that when allowed to flow brings visions and fuels the imagination. Through these visions we can share fully as one family celebrating the highest good and potentials of happiness for each being.

This manifesto proclaims the equality and unity of all mankind. It declares the birthright of each soul to equally and freely share the bounty the earth provides. This freedom comes with the responsibility of nurturing and living in harmony with the earth and all mankind.

This manifesto declares the duty of each human to honour the sacred ideals that equality and unity provides. Love is a power greater than any other. All obstacles and challenges we face can be resolved beautifully as Love guides our thoughts, inner being, visions, and actions.

With the motto "Equality, Oneness, Guided By Love" we can share paradise on earth. The workings upon the earth within the world of mankind are to be founded upon this motto. Each vision, construct, and collective agreement is to be based on this motto with each having within it the greater good of all.

Be it hereby proclaimed that all past agreements, titles, authorities, governments, corporations, systems and constructs not in alignment with this motto and manifesto be hereby annulled, dissolved, or transformed into alignment with this motto and manifesto.
